About me

I am a 24 year old passionate developer with an intrinsic motivation to improve myself and to learn new things everyday. I have 3 years of experience and a strong foundation in web development. I try to improve myself in every field to be able to always help when it is necessary. My main strength is my personality, I am always able to come into a reasonable conclusion with other people . Not everything is about coding.

Professional Experience

VS point | Full stack developer
2023 – Present

Part of small company counting 8 people. Working on 2 web projects. Solely responsible for the development of one, where I work on Front End, Back End and also the Database. The application is used for tracking tests and samples of Prague gas and water systems.

The other project is a web application allowing people to fund their big projects with investments from other people. Again, my contribution is on both Front End and Back End.

SAP Concur | Full stack intern
2021 – 2023

Part of Quality Assurance team, where I contributed to creating internal web dashboard containing all the details about testing of the Concur application. Worked with big amounts of data (millions of executed tests)

Interests, achievements

Sports: I have played tennis my whole life, I managed to be get to top 10 among the boys my age.

Noughts and crosses: Formed a team at Grammar school and successfully led it into the national championship of high schools. In order to get there, we won at the district and regional tournaments. I personally have won all matches during the whole process. For that, I received an honourable mention from the Mayor for representing the town. I showed my ability to lead a team and to share my knowledge with others. It also represents my logical thinking.
